Call for Abstracts: Oral and Poster Presentations

2027 International Neurosurgical Oncology Congress
Miami, Florida, USA | June 3–7, 2027

The First International Neurosurgical Oncology Congress invites neurosurgeons, neuro-oncologists, radiation oncologists, physician-scientists, researchers, residents, fellows, and medical students from around the world to share scientific discoveries, clinical advances, and innovative approaches shaping the future of neurosurgical oncology.

The Congress will provide an international forum for multidisciplinary collaboration, highlighting advancements in brain and spinal tumors, skull base surgery, artificial intelligence, surgical innovation, stereotactic radiosurgery, translational neuroscience, precision oncology, and patient-centered outcomes.

We welcome original research, clinical studies, systematic reviews, case series, technical innovations, and emerging scientific discoveries for consideration as oral presentations or scientific posters.

Submission Guidelines

- Abstracts must be submitted in English.
- Maximum abstract length: 350 words, excluding title, authors, and affiliations.
- Multiple abstracts may be submitted by the same author.
- Each abstract requires a separate submission.
- All submissions undergo scientific review.
- Accepted abstracts may be assigned to oral or poster presentations at the discretion of the Scientific Committee.

Submission and Presentation Requirements
All submitted abstracts will undergo scientific review by the Congress Scientific Committee. Acceptance and presentation format (oral or poster) will be determined based on scientific merit, innovation, methodological rigor, and clinical relevance.

Presenter Attendance Requirement: At least one designated presenting author of each accepted abstract must register for and attend the Congress in person in Miami, Florida, to deliver the assigned oral or poster presentation. Abstract acceptance does not waive registration requirements.

Authors may submit multiple abstracts; however, each submission must be completed separately. Presenting authors are responsible for meeting all deadlines and complying with the Congress's scientific and ethical standards.
Author Acknowledgment and Agreement

By submitting this abstract, I confirm that:

- I have reviewed and agree to the Congress submission guidelines and important deadlines.
- All listed authors have approved the abstract and its submission.
